DEDICATION

We, the 1981 "BULL" Staff, would like to think of this yearbook as a reflection of us, and this college year as being one day. We have devoted a great deal of time and effort to present to you-the JCSU family-a total account of Our World at Johnson C. Smith University.

This year has been one of many changes; to name a few: a new registration system, new faculty members, new programs implemented, and a new way of looking at our world.

Like an average working person who goes home and reappraises the days activities by looking at his newspaper we have provided an opportunity for you to reflect upon this 1981 edition of the "BULL", as we "WELCOME YOU TO OUR WORLD" and dedicate this yearbook to you, the Smith family.

We, the editors, writers, lay-out persons, and photographers are proud to dedicate and present to you for your enjoyment this year's events.

WELCOME TO OUR WORLD

In our world, at Johnson C. Smith University there is a diverse assortment of students. These students have ranged from the inexperienced freshmen to the more experienced graduate.

A student's academic awareness is not limited to the classroom, but encompasses his outside experience as well. Much depends on the quality of the experience the student brings to college with him and a great deal depends upon his association with others present on campus. He can be elevated to a higher plane by engaging in activities that range from discussion and note sharing prior to an examination to an informal rap in the student center or dormitory lounge.

Those students who take advantage of these opportunities of learning experiences usually have a productive college life. Evidence that students are taking advantage of these opportunities is perhaps revealed by their eagerness in class.

Students entering Johnson C. Smith University can be rewarded in different ways. These students disperse themselves into the areas of business, communications, science, biology, education, politics, and other areas and acquaint themselves with opportunities that will benefit them in their area of study. By joining clubs whose activities are related to their specific fields, or by acquiring tutorial positions that will provide the chance to gain teaching skills, students may avail themselves of these opportunities.

A visitor coming to view the campus is usually greeted by the warm and courteous gestures of students. They are zealous to give directions or information concerning the university. Many will even take the time out of their busy schedule to take the visitor where he wants to go.

One might say that as a result of their being classified as a student at JCSU, each person is afforded the opportunity to become a well-rounded person and be equipped to succeed in any aspect of life, yes this is JCSU and we welcome you to our world!

-S-E-J

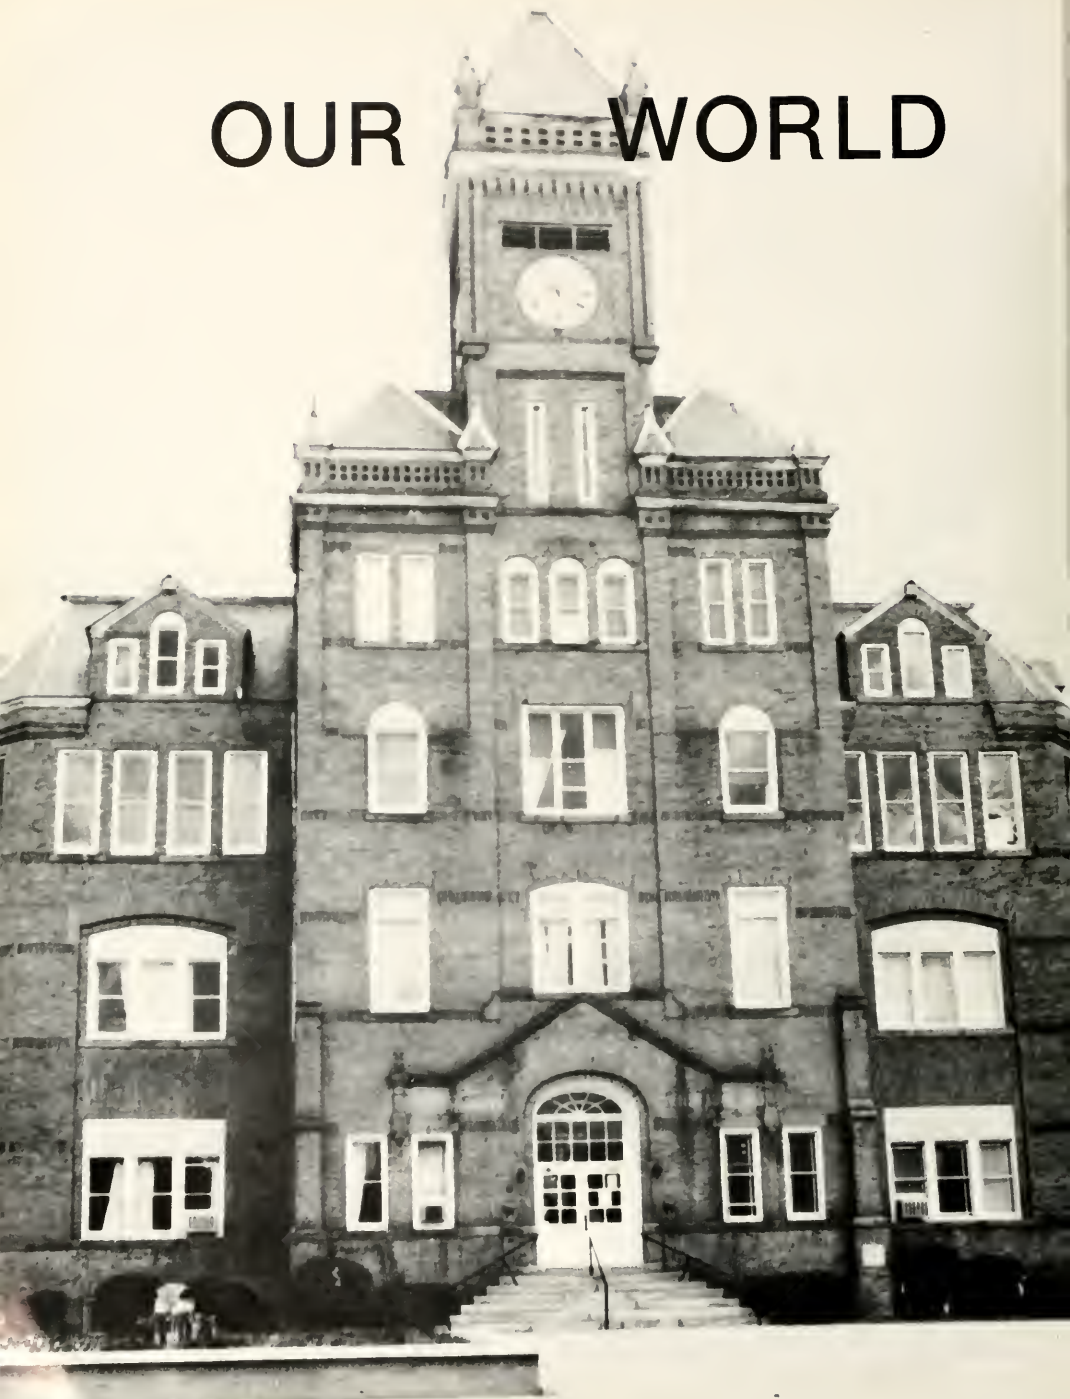

Have you ever had the burning desire to speak out on an important issue but had nobody to listen to you? Well, Doug Mayes, host of Top O' Today show which is broadcasted at noon weekdays on channel 3 in Charlotte, granted a lot of JCSU students their wish by allowing them to voice their opinions concerning national issues, the community, JCSU, and just an opportunity to say-"We LOVE CHARLOTTE!"

OUR WORLD

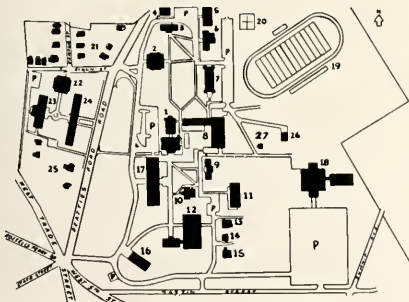

Johnson C. Smith University, an independent private college of liberal arts, was founded under the auspices of the Committee on freedmen of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. The original purpose, which was to provide an institution of training "for the ministry, for catechists, and for teachers," has been greatly expanded. At the present time Johnson C. Smith University exists as an undergraduate institution of higher learning, offering varied fields of study in the context of the small liberal arts college tradition, and is open to all qualified persons.

The general purpose of Johnson C. Smith University is to provide an environment in which men and women may realize as fully as possible their individual potential for intellectual, social spiritual, emotional, and physical growth and well-being. In terms of intellectual growth, the purpose is to encourage and to develop objective, critical, and creative thinking, together with the ability to communicate thoughts and feelings effectively. In terms of social growth, the purpose is to develop the sensitivity and capability necessary for constructive human relationships at all levels of interaction, both with other individuals and with groups. In terms of spiritual growth, the purpose is to offer avenues for examining and expressing religious, moral, and aesthetic values and commitments. In terms of emotional growth, the purpose is to provide assistance in the continuing development of realistic self-understanding and self-acceptance. In terms of Physical growth, the purpose is to provide for both theoretical understanding and practical implementation of the conditions necessary for the physical well-being of the individual and the community.

In the realization of these general goals of liberal arts education, Johnson C. Smith University has certain specific concerns and distinctive emphases which give the institution its individuality and identity. The special characteristics of Johnson C. Smith University include the following:

1. Effective relationships between the theoretical and the practical, between the development of the basic tools of communication and their application to various occupational fields
2. Primary emphasis upon teaching as the basic function of the faculty, with provisions for continuing evaluation, research, and improvement of the teaching-learning process
3. Concerted efforts to meet the actual needs of all study by devising specially designed programs both for the marginally prepared and for the exceptionally well prepared as well as enriched and innovative programs for the adequately prepared
4. Explicit attention given to the experience, outlook, and needs of particular cultural groups, with the constant endeavor to integrate this concentration into the study and appreciation of American and other cultures
5. Acknowledgment of the history and current relevance of the religious' heritage of man, as well as the development of new ways for relating the religious orientation and tradition of the University to that heritage
6. Adoption and development of an integrative approach to all aspects of the life and work of the University
7. Development of relationship between the University and the community wherein each benefits from the presence of the other

ORIENTATION WEEK

The Freshmen's first days at Johnson C. Smith were spent getting acquainted with the University. They were given specific information about the programs of study in which they were able to prepare for their career interest; they took a series of tests that helped them and the advisors select their classes; they were assisted in preparing for registration; and they learned about student life at Johnson C. Smith University.

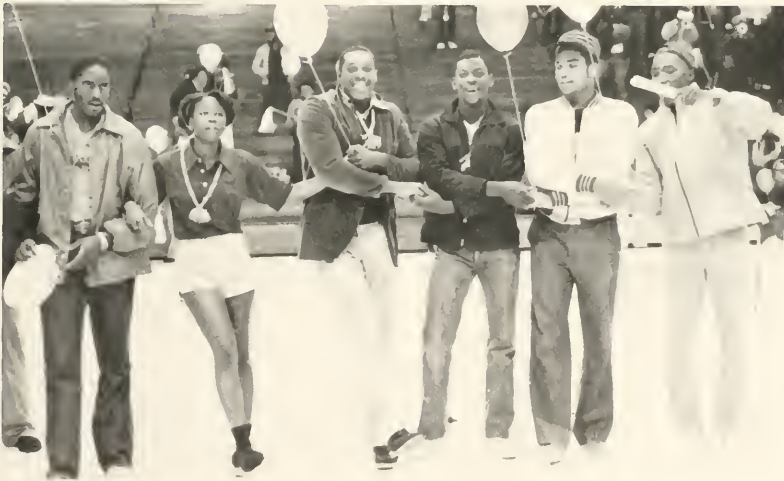

This is "OUR WORLD" at JCSU. It is the story of the individuals in sports, academics and social events. This is the real story of what four years at Johnson C. Smith is truly like. We triumph the victors, the President and the scholars and the leaders. But if one idea is to reign, it is this: Johnson C. Smith University exist because of the many who are here, and that each person in his or her own way, makes JCSU what it is.

SMITHITES

Jesse Jackson was Welcomed to our World.

Like a great maestro leading his orchestra, Rev. Jesse Jackson led his audience with his battle cry: "I am somebody, I am somebody . . . Down with dope, up with hope."

Jackson was in Charlotte as part of a tour in North Carolina to urge blacks to vote on election day and specifically to endorse Bertha Maxwell for the N.C. House of Representatives.

While encouraging blacks to vote Jackson said, "Our 10 million votes will determine the outcome of the election." Jackson says, "You are involved in politics whether you vote or not. When you are born you are issued a birth certificate without any effort on your part, and when you die you will be issued a death certificate without your asking for it, so you are in the political process whether you like it or not."

When talking about the Presidential candidates, Jackson commented, "You have two and a half candidates to choose from." He called John Anderson the half candidate because he did not win any primaries and was not nominated by a convention.

On Ronald Reagan, Jackson cautioned blacks by saying, "Do not shop in Reagan's political supermarket." He says that Reagan practices "Macho Politics" and that his foreign policy would definitely put the United States in a war.

Jackson endorses President Carter saying that he is the most viable candidate and has the foreign policy that would reduce the likelihood of war. He also said that Carter is not responsible for the nations economic problems. He blamed corporate bosses for getting cheap labors oversea instead of paying workers on our country decent wages.

Jackson came up with some imaginative ways to get all young blacks registered to vote. He says that upon high school graduation each graduate should receive a diploma and a voter registration card as a basic requirement. To spur blacks on to achieve the highest goal, Jackson says, "It is not your Aptitude, but your Attitude, that determines your Altitude."

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Academic Year 1969-1971

To: The Seniors and Student Body
Johnson C. Smith University

GREETINGS...

I am pleased to greet you through the medium of THE BULL, our annual student publication. After eight years' tenure at the helm of this institution (double the length of most of our ventures), I am keenly aware of the tremendous growth and development and the academic stature of each graduating class. Fortified with ever-increasing maturity and self-confidence, our student body as a whole continues to exhibit a sense of purpose in being here and an unwavering determination to pursue individual goals and objectives as responsible campus citizens. These attitudes are reflected in both academic and extra-curricular activities.

To the graduating seniors of the class (es) of 1971, we wish you every success in the course you have charted for yourselves. You will join the throng of Smith alumni so well-regarded and self-disciplined citizens eager to make your own unique contributions to society. This prospect, depicting some of the year's of preparation and hardihood, will be a constant reminder of your own special niche in the Johnson C. Smith University Family.

Please know that in all of your aspirations, ambitions, dreams and worthy endeavors, I wish you Success, Happiness and God-speed.

SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT

Dear Fellow Classmates,

As we reflect upon our theme for this academic year "Today's Dreams-Tomorrow's Realities", we have proven to ourselves that we have accomplished one of our endeavors. We have shown that our self confidence which is still within us is done with determination. We as young black men and women must go out into the world and show others that we are capable and efficient to do those things in which we have prepared ourselves for, and that being a product of a small predominantly black institution does not have any effect on how well we can matriculate in whatever we do, as opposed to those who graduated from larger institutions.

I challenge you, to place your priorities, whether they are graduate schools or jobs, and strive to do your best so that Johnson C. Smith University will always be proud of your accomplishments and the dream you have fulfill.

In closing, I would like to say that when we leave the walls of this University, we must always have that loyalty and pride for dear old JCSU. Let us not leave forever and not be supportive, let us always support the institution which helped us better ourselves with a quality education, so that it may survive for our future generations.

*Yours In Blackness,
Dennis K. Branch-
Senior Class President*

BEYOND THE GRASP

Each aim should be beyond the grasp,
If we would higher heights attain;
For if our goals are easy clasp,
The upward reach has meant no gain.

We fail to conquer if our reach
Is no bit higher than our stretch;
And failing then to find a breach,
Man feels he's just a worthless wretch.

So with full glimpse of goals in sight,
As one hand keeps a steady clasp,
We strive with all our main and might,
To always reach beyond the grasp.

SNOW

Pure as the fresh clear water flowing from the deep middle of the forest,
it sparkles with the golden lining of sunshine
reflecting onto its

We are happy
when it welcome us

but then we turn
against it in rage,
for all it left for inheritance is nothing of value.

THE QUALITY OF FRIENDSHIP

The quality of friendship,
unlike that of mercy,
is continually being strained.
But it is the essence of friendship that it can stand the strain.
Friendship is like love at its best:
not blind but sympathetically all-seeing;
a support which does not wait for understanding;
an act of faith which does not need but always has reason.

FORGOTTEN

*From the first ship voyage of England to the captured humans from Africa, left marks along the shores
of this great land.*

*Proceeding through the days of slavery
into an era of prosperity, entangled the dreams once thought by the common mind.*

The arrival of the Edison's period to the discovery of aviation are now countless thoughts thrown into the sea.

*Presidential assassinations along with conspiracy of the government,
no longer lingers in the atmosphere of ignorance.*

*Yet slowly drifted into the edge of destruction into the new world of independence, darkened the eyes of the early settlers
for their triumph.*

*A progressive country
twirled in its poor economy,
leaves no time to chat or laugh
once heard before.*

Ancestors, traditions and beliefs changed to unimportant matters, are now alleviated by youth, for all is forgotten.

"I Didn't Have Time"
 I got up early one morning and rushed right into the day
 I had so much to accomplish
 That I didn't have time to pray
 Problems just tumbled about me
 And heavier came each task;
 "Why doesn't God help me," I wondered.
 He answered, "You didn't ask."
 I wanted to see joy and beauty
 But the day toiled on, Gray and bleak
 I wondered why God didn't show me
 He said, "But you didn't seek."
 I tried to come into God's presence;
 I used all my keys at the lock.
 God gently and lovingly chided,
 "My child, you didn't knock."
 I woke up early this morning
 And paused before entering the day.
 I had so much to accomplish
 That I had to take the time to pray.

WHAT WE HAVE DONE

Into the sea of education
 our boats set sail
 Drifting under the sunshine
 through the rain and hail
 We placed our feet
 unto the rock of opportunity Carrying it with us
 for one's self-identity
 Listening and observing carefully ideas began to flow
 Working hard together
 expressing the knowledge we know
 Our future began to build
 as others began to fall
 We lost a few shipmates
 those sitting on the wall
 The years has gone by
 and our journey is complete
 We made some serious mistakes
 for the goals we tried to meet
 What we have done
 every man can see
 For today's dreams
 is tomorrow's reality

IDENTITY

It's Wednesday afternoon and the room is very tranquil. The sun beams through the shutters giving the room just enough light, but it is fading in and out like a child playing hide and seek. It reminds me of myself-not sure of many things. Who am I? Where am I going? Where have I been? I can see my future around that corner ahead, but the walk there seems so long and in between now and then is today, which is what I must live for. With today comes changes that play a paramount role in my life, even though they are both good and bad I'm searching of something and someone. The something is self awareness, and from the self awareness comes the some-one ME!

SENIORS MINGLING WITH UNDERCLASSMEN

UNDERCLASSMEN

From the time a student enters Johnson C. Smith University as a Freshmen, to the time he finally receives his degree, many things occur that influences his attitude as well as the world in which he lives.

After spending at least a year at JCSU the student becomes aware of several aspects of college life. They develop interests in extracurricular activities and social affairs to make their stay as pleasant as possible. Some become involved in athletics, drama, band, or any activity they may find interesting.

By the time most students reach senior status they have the opportunity to discover what life is really all about.

BLACK COLLEGE DAY

The largest crowd gathering of blacks in 1980, Black College Day '80, drew 30,000 supporters to the nation's capital who marched from the White House to the U.S. Capitol Building to demonstrate their concern over the threat to close Black colleges. Tony Brown, coordinator of the event, corralled the supporters of colleges, churches, and social organizations nationwide to establish a powerful coalition which will, each year, call attention to the significance of Black colleges of higher education.

VALUABLE EXPERIENCE
GAINED INSIDE CLASS

When your classes are finally straightened out, assuming that like most everyone, you've waited hours in line to drop/add, the daily routine begins. In the first few weeks of class books are bought, assignments given out, and you try to decide if your Thursday first Biology class is going to be worthwhile. But, this too is a learning experience: we learn not to take another history or math class. We find out more about our interests and talents. No one can offer us a better class than that.

THE TEN MINUTES

VALUABLE

OUTSIDE
CLASS

The ten minutes between classes can be the most useful ten minutes of the day. How many times have you done last minute studying? With large blocks of time the block is the favorite hangout. No matter how much time you have to kill between classes, it seems that there's always time to chat with the friend you always seem to run into on your walk to class.

The annual gospel revival was held in the University Church by the Rev. Gilbert Harper, an alumni of JCSU. The Freshman Gospel Choir helped to praise the Lord in beautiful music.

Whether it's at work, play, leisure or hard work, looking back-it's a JCSU affair.

Everyday at JCSU brings about a new experience. Sometimes one can wake up with a lot of mixed emotions. As this student begins her day, she seems to have a lot of urgent questions to find answers to. Where am I? What is my purpose for being here? Which way do I go? Is it time for class? Should I go to class? Where are my classes? Why do I feel like I'm going around in a circle? Am I lost? But even after days like this, students still manage to have a "NICE DAY".

PARADE

The 1980 festivities for the Homecoming Parade brought out smiling spectators with umbrellas, as rain sprinkled the lovely queens, clowns, floats, merchants, and Charlotte's best as it proceeded down to Memorial Stadium. The rain, however did not prevent the team from it's fourth victory of the season.

CORONATION OF MISS JCSU

On October 3, 1980, Gracie Pemberton Miss Johnson C. Smith for the year 1980-81 was crowned by former Miss JCSU; Wanda Joyner. This gala affair included all campus queens paying their tribute to the new queen. There were also special performances made in Miss JCSU's honor. The theme for the evening was "CHANCE OF A LIFETIME." This was what Gracie had been hoping for. She also wished all of the campus queens dream would come true too. If wishes come true then everyone had theirs that night.

GOOD CHEER HOUR

"HALF TIME"

The half time ceremonies was enthusiastically received as President, Wilbert Greenfield, and Alumni President, Mr. Bill Davis welcomed students, alumni and friends to the 1980 Homecoming Festivities. Miss Johnson C. Smith, Gracie Pemberton, and Royal court (Valjene Brown and Nattie Stockton) helped to assist the President in this highly emotional activity, along with the help of Steven Jarrett, who is President of Student Government.

HOMECOMING GAME

DIFFERENT LIFE STYLES

We are the people of many interest. Being a Smithite means having a particular style of life. Many of us being a freshmen and proceed to become a Greek or commuter then to the final stage of being a senior. Each of these stages characterizes a particular style of life, individual in its own way, familiar to mostly all of us.

LIFESTYLES FRESHMAN

We've all been a freshman one time or another. Do you remember your first roommate in the dorms who you thought was very much like yourself but later proved to be very different? Everything was so different from high school especially the freedom we first (finally) tasted. Even though most of us would never want to be a freshman again, it was nice to meet so many kids with common interest in one place at one time.

HEY I'M NEW

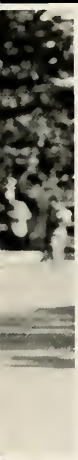

LIFESTYLES SENIORS

HEY, I'M LEAVING

Not all of us are 12th term seniors yet but those who are can sympathize with this lifestyle. It is both a sad and a happy time for a JCSU student-sad that you are leaving the fun of college after 4 years and happy because you are finally getting out of the work. Characteristics of a 12th term senior's lifestyle? Well, hair-cuts, senior portraits, interviews, 400 level courses, sleeping class and ordering rings.

LIFESTYLES GREEKS

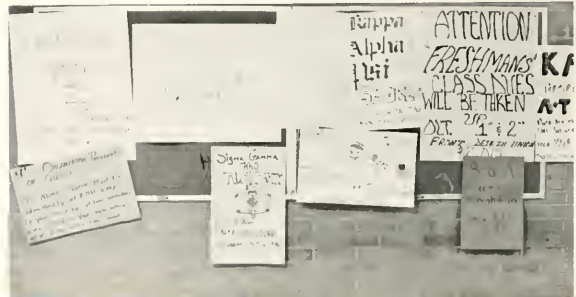

AKA's Rush Party

Kappas pledges at dinner

Delta's pyramids at the Homecoming Game

Lamps of omega Psi Phi enjoy dinner with big brother.

Alpha pledgees pose for a snapshot.

Lamps hard at work.

The fraternity or sorority letters are the mark of acceptance and approval signifying a student's membership of an exclusive group. However they represent a style of life that probably is the most active on campus. They seem to be very spirited and loyal to their own chapter they never run out of friends. Needless to say, they do much more than wear 3 Greek letters.

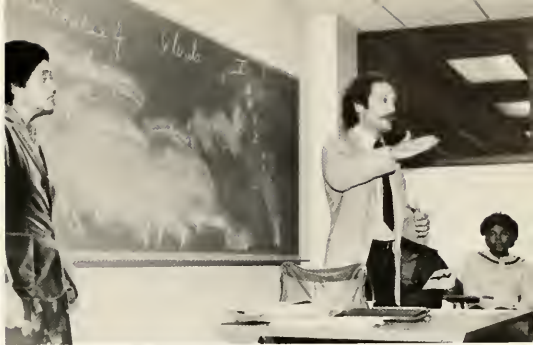

LIFESTYLES COUPLES

Why do some of us come in Pairs? Its hard enough to take care of yourself in this college marathon, let alone someone else. Todays generation give up their singles lifestyle for love and companion rather than security and society pressure. Being together for feelings sake because you enjoy being with him or her, is what's accepted now.

LIFESTYLES PROFESSORS

A lot of us have struggled through tests, lectures, and homework problems from these profs. Yet each teacher is distinct from the others in some way. Most can get boring sometimes although some are very good at sending half the class to sleep in 15 minutes. They all seem to give homework and other assignments at bad times, although some hit every weekend you leave for home.

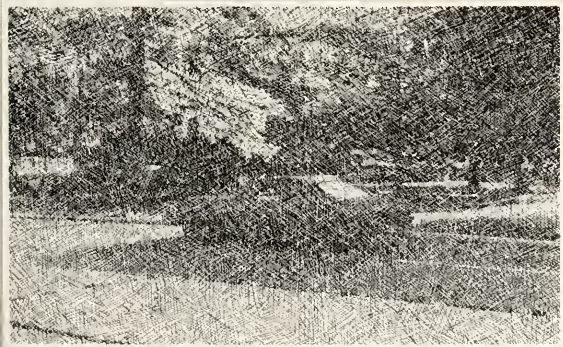

LIFESTYLES COMMUTERS

No matter where they live, all commuters share the inconvenience of daily transportation to and from campus. The reasons for commuting are as many as the number of students that have chosen to commute. Each morning, however, as they step from parking lot E onto the more habitable parts of campus, they become a part of the whole-a hodgepodge of students hurrying to classes.

We're just waiting on the bus.

CAN SOMETIMES
TIMES

The JCSU Golden Bull football team finished the 1980 football season with a 4-7 record. There were some positive and negative signs on this year's team.

Coach Wylie Harris and his staff are on the verge of turning the football traditions of JCSU around. Every season the record has gotten a little better. But, are the changes coming fast enough?

Now I am not one to hurry things along, nor am I an eternal complainer. In fact, most people say I'm usually a little too loyal to coaches, but there were some things which were disturbing this year.

Early in the season poor training could easily be detected, as the Golden Bulls would dominate opponents only to be beaten badly by them in the fourth quarter. Although this problem was rectified later in the season, it should have been taken care of in the off-season. If you wait until the season starts it's usually too late.

JCSU's offense sputtered through the season. This was caused by a number of things. The offensive attack was very unimaginative which makes it very easy for opposing coaches to defend. This was probably due to a lack of quality athletes, but it goes even deeper than that.

During the season as many as four quarterbacks were used in a game. This means that the rest of the offense never got a chance to get adjusted to any one style. Since this man is the leader of your offense this is a major problem.

Defensively the Golden Bulls played better than average for most of the season, after the conditioning was taken care of. This improvement and strong play should probably be attributed to the addition of Daniel Beauford at defensive end. Beauford can only be termed as a "blue chipper." He's the type player that coaches dream about. You just put him on the field and let him work. He also makes life miserable for opposing coaches. He led the Golden Bulls in sacks, solo tackles, and total tackles.

But, no man, no matter how good he is, can do it all. Smith has some quality athletes sitting out this year which should make the defense even stronger next year.

Probably the biggest disappointment this year was the administration of the team. There were instances when players were wrongly advised on dropping courses and not allowed to play because of not carrying enough hours. These are mistakes that are never made by "big time coaches." There is no excuse for it.

Now that the problems have been cited, what are the solutions? As far as conditioning is concerned, a better weight training facility is needed. Since the athletic department claims to have a quality facility now and plans to put it into use immediately, that problem should be over.

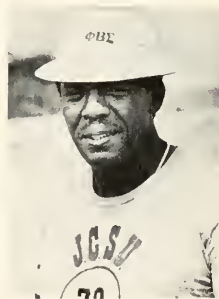

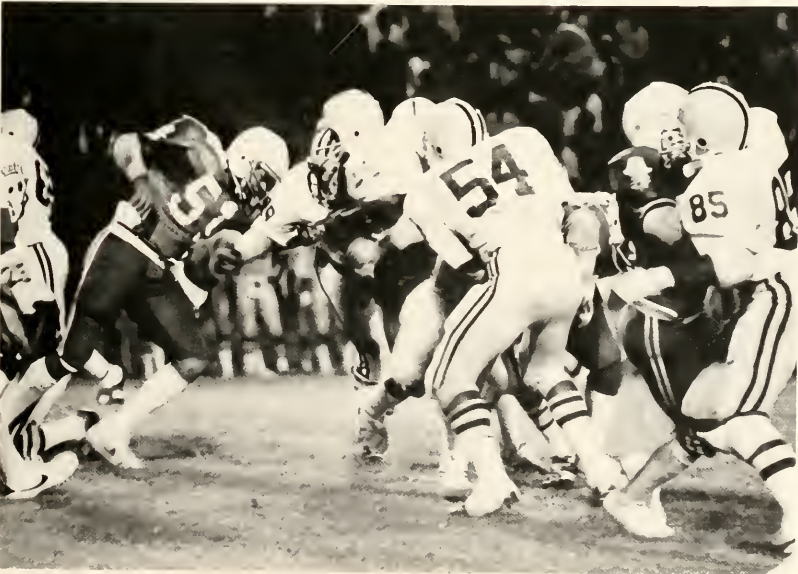

The next problem: the quarterback situation. Smith has three quality quarterbacks returning next year. Of these John Thomas and Hubert Jewsome had the best seasons, with Thomas probably having the better of the two. This can change over a year's time, however. It is advised that whoever the quarterback may be, he be given a chance to show what he can do. This means control for at least two or three games without interruption. When you use two, three, and even four signal callers in a game it puts added pressure on the individual on the field because he knows the first mistake he makes he will probably be taken out. That situation is unbearable for an 18-21 year old man and should never be put on his shoulders.

As far as administration goes, there should be weekly individual meetings with every player, with academics being the main topic. In this way a coach could find out about any academic problems his players might be having and help them rectify them in the right manner.

The coaches will also have to work a little bit harder on their recruiting. If you wait for players to come to you, you'll probably have a long wait. If you want quality kids you have to be very aggressive, because everybody wants them. With efforts, it can be done. South Carolina State shows us that as they consistently sign superior athletes.

Although, as pointed out, there are several problems in the JCSU football program, improvements have been made and it would be a good idea if Coach Harris' contract was renewed. I look forward to seeing a winning JCSU football team next year.

A SNEAK VIEW AT STUDENT LIFE

ALTHOUGH YOU ARE GONE THE MEMORIES OF YOU WILL LINGER ON.

Gather ye rosebuds while ye may, Old time is still a-flying.
And this same flower that smiles today, tomorrow will be dying.
The glorious lamp of heaven the sun, the higher he's a-getting.
The sooner will his race be run, and nearer he's to setting.

“CANT STAND MY PRETTY SELF”

Like Violets, Deltas must be individually selected
You can not grab a handful without damaging some of them.
They can not be roughly picked or picked in a hurry.

Like Violets, Deltas are not the kind of flower that shows off its fullest beauty Standing alone, but is naturally gregarious and looks best in natural clusters

However, like Violets, the Delta can stand alone and still reflects beauty.

On November 17, 1911 four men Dr. Ernest E. Just, Edgar A. Love, Oscar J. Cooper, and Frank Coleman felt a burning desire to establish an organization that would be the basis for unity, love and brotherhood among black men. This organization was founded on the campus of Howard University and named Omega Psi Phi Fraternity Incorporated.

Rho Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was chartered December 5, 1921 on the campus of Johnson C. Smith. In the chapters 59 years of existence, Rho Chapter has entailed in its members the four cardinal principles of the fraternity: manhood, scholarship, perseverance, and uplift. In addition leadership and achievement have become synonymous with the fraternity and will continue to be exemplified by Omega men.

CAROWINDS

CAROWINDS . . . A DAY OF FUN AND DISCOVERY

The New Student Orientation Committee loaded three church buses along with two hundred freshmen and headed down I-77 to unload at the welcoming and beckoning gates of CAROWINDS.

This was the first trip that the Committee had planned for new students, so the committee members had as much fun as the freshmen discovering the joy of riding upside down on the White Lightning, or the thrill of winning a terrifying panther as cuddly as a lamb, and eating candy apples and cotton candy until faces were suddenly decorated with strawberries.

You don't have to be a freshman to enjoy a day at CAROWINDS, only a member of the Smith family!

LYCEUM DANCE GROUP

On a brisk Tuesday morning, Jan. 15, students assembled at the University's front entrance to march down to the University Church softly singing "We shall Overcome" in support of Congress proclaiming January 15, Rev. Martin L. King, Jr.'s birthday as a national holiday.

The guest speaker for the occasion was Rev. Bennie Goodwin of the Interdenomination Theological Center.

After convocation, petitions were signed in support of this momentum occasion.

"I HAVE

DINNER ON THE BLOCK

The annual Freshmen Banquet held during Orientation Week, was an extravagant affair dazzled by smiles and a delectable meal.

Orientation members had the pleasure of inviting a freshman to the banquet which was set up on the University Plaza.

Freshmen were able to meet administrators, faculty members and student leaders.

OMEGA BLOOD DRIVE

SGA INSTALLATION

With each new year the student body elects a new Student Government Association President to represent their interests and concerns. This year, Steven A. Jarrett was sworn in by President Wilbert Greenfield in the University Church.

Mr. Jarrett installation speech focused on the dilemma of black colleges and students' desire to help keep the black college experience alive.

Steve's Executive Board members and students were sworn into office and into the Johnson C. Smith University Family.

SYMPOSIUM

IT'S HALLOWEEN

There are a lot of different cultural groups established on JCSU campus, but Rev. Devia Phinisee pulled all of these cultures together to create "International Night" in the University Main Union Lounge.

Clothes, foods, music, dance and festive laughter helped to accent the night with cultural education and fun.

Faculty members and students participated in the event to unite the many cultural backgrounds into one big happy Smith Family!

INTERNATIONAL NIGHT

SENIOR CHINAWARE SHOW

International Homes
presents
Fine Imported China

It's not everyday that senior women get the opportunity to view fine china and crystal plus stainless steel cookware at no charge and offered the opportunity to purchase the items at a nominal price.

But thanks to Mr. Robyn Brooks, a representative of International Homes, senior women were allowed to view and order the china set of their choice plus a set of stainless steel cookware guaranteed for life at a reasonable price.

The show is an annual event for senior women.

DR. ALVIN POUSSAINT, MD

ROADBLOCKS TO UNITY: A Prominent psychiatrist looks at racism, violence, self-image and their effect on interracial relations.

Child care...violence in society...psychiatry and politics...the fallacy of IQ testing...interracial relations...affirmative action...White racism...Black roadblocks to Black unity...Black Americans' self-image. ALVIN POUSSAINT's life's work has been to examine all facets that affect Black Americans and, ultimately, every American. He has pursued careers as psychiatrist, medical school administrator, social activist, author and lecturer.

Born in East Harlem, ALVIN POUSSAINT attended Columbia and received his MD from Cornell in 1960. He took postgraduate training at UCLA Neuropsychiatric Institute, where he served as Chief Resident in Psychiatry from 1964-65. At UCLA, he pursued research in the use of drugs in treating childhood bedwetting.

In 1965, he moved to Jackson, Mississippi, where he served until 1967 as Southern Field Director for the Medical Committee for Human Rights. He provided medical care to civil rights workers and aided in the desegregation of health facilities throughout the South. He worked alongside such civil rights leaders as Stokely Carmichael, Martin Luther King Jr., Andrew Young and Jesse Jackson. He is currently a member of the Board of Directors of Operation PUSH.

In 1967, Dr. POUSSAINT joined the Tufts Medical School faculty as director of the psychiatry program in a low-income housing project. He developed a strong interest in community psychiatry and race relations, particularly in the psychological impact of racism on the Black psyche, and he wrote frequently on the subject.

In 1969, he was appointed Associate Professor of Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School, and also Dean of Students. From 1975-76, he was Director of Student Affairs and he had a major impact on minority group student recruitment.

Dr. POUSSAINT has written and published articles in both scientific and lay publications, including the Sunday magazines of the New York Times and Boston Globe; Psychology Today; Parents magazine and Ebony. He is co-author (with Dr. James P. Comer) of Black Child Care, and author of Why Blacks Kill Blacks. A former consultant to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and a consultant to the Congressional Black Caucus, he has received a number of awards and citations for his community activities.

Currently on the staff of Boston's Children's Hospital, where he is a member of the Family Support Center staff and active in research, Dr. POUSSAINT has become one of the nation's most popular lecturers on racism and race relations.

One of the most diverse artists of the 1970's is the man referred to by Soul Magazine as "The Minister of Information," GIL SCOTT-HERON. GIL SCOTT-HERON was initially published and recorded in 1970. In the fall of that year, The Vulture, a novel/mystery set against the background of urban street survival, was published simultaneously with a volume of poetry, Small Talk at 125th and Lenox. Flying Dutchman Records released a record in conjunction with the release of the books and Small Talk... became available with selections from the poetry volume and original songs played and sung by SCOTT-HERON who accompanied himself on piano.

Though still a college student at the time, SCOTT-HERON, along with fellow student Brian Jackson, continued to record and publish with Pieces of A Man in 1971 (with an all star band of Hubert Laws, flute/saxophone; Ron Carter, bass; and Bernard Purdie, drums), including The Revolution Will Not Be Televised. This was followed by Free Will, a recorded combination of music and songs, and the novel, The Nigger Factory, while SCOTT-HERON was receiving his Master of Arts degree in Creative Writing from the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland, and initiating a teaching career at Federal City College in Washington, DC. (later renamed The University of the District of Columbia).

It is his teaching experience and background (he also taught while at Johns Hopkins University and Lincoln University) as much as his artistic achievements that have contributed to the success of SCOTT-HERON's lecture and solo-performance appearances. The audience is presented with poetry and music, but also the type of political incisiveness that created classics such as "The H₂Ogate Blues," "We Beg Your Pardon, America," and "Jose Campes Torres," a poetic response to the death of a young Mexican-American at the hands of Houston police and presented on The Mind of Gil Scott-Heron.

GIL SCOTT-HERON was born in Chicago, Illinois in 1949, and reared in Jackson, Tennessee. At the age of 13, he moved to New York City where he attended Creston Junior High School, DeWitt Clinton High School, and graduated in 1967 from the Fieldston Schools of Ethical Culture. He has been co-leader of The Midnight Band with Brian Jackson since 1973, and has performed both nationally and internationally.

MAY DAY CEREMONY

The Johnson C. Smith Family began May with a parade of campus queens and the crowning of Miss Student Christian Association. Vereda Priggen took her last stroll as Miss S.C.A. for 1979-80 and proudly crowned the new queen Miss Gusti Fisher for 1980-81.

On January 17, 1981 a work shop was held for all volunteers participating in the UNCF Telethon which was aired in Charlotte from 8p.m. to 11p.m. on WBTV January 24th. The telethon was a great success for the Charlotte area. Donations received from the telethon will benefit Barber Scotia College, Livingstone College, and Johnson C. Smith University.

BROOKLYN BOYS CHORUS

In an era when inner-city school children have little opportunity to explore the arts, 30 boys from Brooklyn, as members of the Brooklyn Boys Chorus, are introducing classical and contemporary music to students all over the country.

Ranging in age from nine to 14, the children come to the chorus with the limited musical scope afforded them through the public school system. After a two-year period with a "training chorus," they find themselves center-stage in performances with the New York Philharmonic, New York City Opera, New York Choral Society, Philadelphia Orchestra, Boston Symphony, Boston Opera and Joffrey Ballet.

The chorus has mastered the intricate harmonies of Bach, Mozart, Brahms, Stravinsky and Bernstein, and performs with a youthful exuberance that shines through its disciplined professionalism.

These qualities have earned the Brooklyn Boys Chorus the honor of being called upon for performances of such works as Leonard Bernstein's Chichester Psalms with the National symphony for the opening of Kennedy Center, and the premiere of George Crumb's Star Child with the New York Philharmonic.

Blended into the boy's repertoire are folk, rock, gospel and electronic works, making their performances particularly appealing to student and church groups, for whom they perform in special programs more than 200 times each year.

The moving force behind the chorus is its director, James McCarthy. Working with boy's choruses for nearly 20 years, McCarthy has held fast to the belief that the performance of sacred works should recreate the aura of the liturgy for which they were written more than 200 years ago.

UNIVERSITY CHOIR CHRISTMAS CONCERT RECEPTION

It has been said many times, knowledge is the key to success. For, knowledge, too, is itself a power. And it is strange how much you've got to know, before you know how little you know.

Albertha Hilton

As I reminisce, my mind goes back to my first day at Smith. I remember uttering the words of our loyalty song and faithfully taking in the words as a vow: I have lived by this vow since being here at Smith, and I will e'er be true to dear old JCSU. . . . Thank-you Smith for the many experiences; academically and socially.

Sylbria Valgene Brown

The attainability of goals depends on the individual. Although one may be brazenly confronted with criticism, tenacious determination within the mind, body, and soul and aut successfully accomplish his desirable objectives.

Fernanda Gayle Tate

Johnson C. Smith University has become an integral part of my life over the past four years. I have developed physically, intellectually, socially, and spiritually. The journey has not been an easy task, but through it all with help of my family, the University Family and others, I have learned to trust in God.

My philosophy is what is used grows and develops, what is not used wastes away. Remember, Brothers and Sisters, "Keep the dream alive" because a mind is a terrible thing to waste.

Quanda Renee Turner

Love and self-determination are the two main ingredients for success. One must understand himself through trials and errors to be recognized in today's society. Strive for what you believe and set forth your life plan.

Be prepared for the unexpected with great strength and wisdom and expect the least from the most. Your life contains many moments, make each one worth the remembering. Most of all, be truthful to your friends and honest to yourself, for a foolish man has no pride and gains no glory, only certainty of failure.

Larry Earl Warren
Senior Class Vice-President

My horizons at Johnson C. Smith University have been rewarding as well as challenging. It has given me the exposure that is essential for a successful professional career. To the Smith Family: "I love you and I adore you"

Marcella Ellis

In our struggle to succeed and survive, we must always retain this thought-"God helps those that try to help themselves." Good-luck family. Thank you for a rewarding experience as your Queen and a member of our great University.
 Gracie A. Pemberton

Who's Who is one of the few rewards one may attain as a result of sacrifice, hardwork, and dedication. We should never forget, it always takes some short term pain in order to have long term pleasure. Good-luck in your quest for success, and I hope to see you some day "makin' it" in the "cold, cruel world"
 Steven A. Jarrett

Jenifer Jackson

Be whatever you want to; Just strive for the highest heights; go for the furthest star; fear not the unknown, it's yours for the taking; Just believe in yourself; Have faith in God.
 Janice F. Squirewell

Attending Johnson C. Smith University has encouraged me to develop an objective, critical, and creative way of thinking, with the ability to communicate effectively. This I feel would be a great asset in my chosen profession.
 Sarah-Elaine Jenkins

I know where I came from and I have conceptualized my future. In order to be successful one must pre-determine his or her destiny by setting goals, working hard to achieve them, and remembering that all things are possible to him that believes. The question is not one of "our" power, but the measure of "our" faith in God's Power.
 Cynthia P. Walls

TEACHERS OF THE YEAR

It was a privilege for me as a relatively new member of the J. C. Smith University family to be so honored by the student body. Personally, I feel that to be chosen by students as Male Teacher of The Year is more important than any honor that could be bestowed by peers or administration. It is essential that in a university community-students, faculty and administration should join together to achieve success by confronting the great challenges of our society. There is an urgent need to examine the challenges and express our unwillingness to be overcome by it. I appreciate the opportunity to join with our students in our common desire to "Seek Solution Together". Thank you and God Bless all of you.

Dr. Harold Lerner

Words are inadequate to express my deep appreciation to you for according me this honor. I shall always cherish this award and shall strive to better exemplify the ideals it represents. You are such wonderful students that working with you is not a laborious task, but a joyous adventure. Thank you so very much for your many kindnesses and expressions of love. May God richly bless you. I love every one of you. Always remember that happiness is a by-product of altruistic love and concern for others.

Bessie H. Ledbetter

STUDENT LIFE

Student life comes in a variety of experiences. For some, the interest of attending Student Government meetings aids in staying on top of activities. Then, there's always the students that mingle after hour for studying purposes and finally, the students that simply relax. Whether it's a group or a individual, student life surrounds a college experience.

Waiting in lines seem to be a life-time event, especially during Registration.

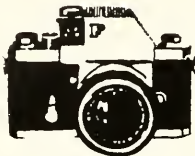

This year, however, the university made the task a little smoother by assigning time cards to designate the hour when students could register.

Even with this convenience, long, tired faces can be seen shuffling along. But waiting with friends help to ease the boredom as we pass through life in lines.

JOHNSON C. SMITH UNIVERSITY

CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA 28216

YEARBOOK OFFICE

February 13, 1981

Its finished. In many ways, I'm glad to be able to say that. It is a great relief to be able to have completed this book, but the absence of the long days and nights in the yearbook office will leave a certain void in my life.

Attending Johnson C. Smith University and working on the "BULL" has taught me a lot. One of the discoveries which I made during the years I have worked on the "BULL" staff is how detrimental to one's health being a yearbook editor is.

I owe a great deal of thanks to several persons that has helped me to make it through these long hard months. I will begin by giving special thanks to: Wanda Wilson, Gracie Pemberton, Sondra Hines, Regina Scott, Janice Squirewell, Jackie Lanier, Rhonda Bridges, Mrs. Crisp, Mrs. Ross, Dr. Gaston, Mr. Armstead, and Ricky Sampson for a beautiful job on the photography. In addition, I would like to thank all those other persons that helped to make this annual a success.

We have tried to show an individual in a diverse university. Naturally a yearbook cannot bring back all of your memories of JCSU, but I hope this book relates to as many of your experiences as possible.

I wish you Godspeed and all the peace and happiness in the world. It has been fun!

WELCOME TO OUR WORLD
